

Sean M. VanGuilder

Like many others, my first introduction to this community was through Saint Leo University. As I completed high school, Saint Leo gave me the greatest opportunity to realize my dream of attending college and playing collegiate baseball. I finished my undergraduate and graduate degree in Business Administration, and was fortunate enough to continue on with the University in a professional role. As my professional and personal life has progressed since graduation I have been able to mentor collegiate athletes as an assistant baseball coach, impact community member's lives as they join the Saint Leo community, and was blessed with an addition to my family in January 2012. As a member of the St. Leo community, I feel that it is imperative to unit and improve collaboration with all entities of the town: Residents of the town and Lake Jovita, The University, The Monastery, and the Abbey- to creative a cohesive and functioning town. Having been a member of this community now for over 10 years, I count it a deep honor to live, work, and raise my family here.
